PREFACE

CLASSMATES:

I present herewith my tenth report, which is intended to cover the history of the Class since 1901. In its preparation I have for the most part been compelled to rely upon your several answers to my circular, consequently if you find it rather meagre in point of new information, please attribute that to the extreme modesty of yourselves, and not to your humble chronicler, who would willingly have compiled a pamphlet twice the size of this one, had the requisite material been forthcoming.

HARVARD COLLEGE

CLASS OF 1871

AMORY, FRANCIS INMAN. No change since last report.

AUSTIN, AMORY. "Since last report I have been living in Newport, R. I., generally letting my house in the summer and going off to fish in the Maine lakes. Have travelled extensively in the last ten years in England, France, Canada, the Bahamas, and the Southern States. Have also passed several winters in Bermuda, and have, as an amateur, photographed that entire colony — twice taking first prize for my pictures at their annual exhibitions. Have read one or two papers before the R. I. Society of Colonial Wars on heraldic and biographical subjects."

*BACKUS, HENRY CLINTON. Backus continued to practise law in New York City up to 1907. In November of that year he had an attack of grip which was followed by heart and kidney troubles and he died on May 3, 1908.

BARNES, ALBERT MALLARD. Is still treasurer and general manager of the Cambridge Gas-Light Company. Is a director in the Harvard Trust Company and a trustee of the Cambridgeport Savings Bank.

BARTLETT, NELSON SLATER. Has retired from active business and is engaged in caring for property as trustee. Is a member of the Union and St. Botolph Clubs of Boston, the University Club of New York, the Essex County Club of Manchester, and the Eastern Yacht Club.

BASS, GEORGE. No reply.

*BASSETT, FRANCIS. Died at London, England, January 2, 1903.

BIGELOW, WILLIAM STURGIS. In 1908 was appointed lecturer at Harvard University on the Buddhist Doctrine and the same year delivered the Ingersoll lecture, taking for his subject "Buddhism and Immortality." This was subsequently published by Houghton, Mifflin Company. Was appointed a member of the United States Assay Commission in 1908 by President Roosevelt and in 1909 was appointed by the Secretary of State a delegate from the United States to the Literary and Artistic Congress at Copenhagen, but owing to illness was unable to attend. In 1909 received from the Emperor of Japan the Order of the Rising Sun, with the rank of Commander, being the highest distinction that Japan can confer upon one not actually in official life.

BONAPARTE, CHARLES JOSEPH. "Have written several magazine articles and for three months of this year contributed signed editorials to a newspaper. Have been more or less (rather more than less) active in Maryland politics. Am a trustee of the Catholic University of America. Was a member Board of Indian Commissioners, 1902-04; special counsel in P. O. frauds, 1903-04; special agent to investigate certain abuses in Indian Service, 1903-04; presidential elector, 1904; Secretary of Navy, July 1, 1905 to Dec. 17, 1906; attorney-general, Dec. 17, 1906 to March 5, 1909."

BOOTH, EDWARD CHAUNCEY. Served as trustee of the Somerville Public Library from 1872 to 1875 and from 1898 to 1910, the last four years as president of the Board. Is a member of the Somerville Harvard Club, the Boston City Club, and the Belmont Spring Country Club. Is civil service examiner for Somerville.

BOWEN, CHARLES STUART. No change from last report.

BOYD, WILLIAM WILLARD. "The last six years have been spent in travel and studies of social and political conditions abroad. Have made a slow, complete circuit of the globe, and visited nearly every country. On the last tour round the world was special correspondent of the St. Louis Times."

BRADLEE, DUDLEY HALL. Is agent for Vartray Ginger Ale, Sarsaparilla, and Club soda; Old Diamond Rye, and Glenartney Scotch. "It should interest the boys to know that by using the goods I am representing, they will be able to be on hand for the fiftieth anniversary in splendid condition."

*BROWN, JESSE. Died at Washington, D. C., June 21, 1904, of acute Bright's disease.

BULLOCK, RUFUS AUGUSTUS. No change from last report.

BURNETT, EDWARD. Same as last report. Is making a specialty of farm buildings, stables, and dairies. Was married at Asheville, N. C., on April 25, 1905, to Mrs. Ethel Raymond Burnett (his brother's widow), the daughter of Philip and Mary Raymond Mason. May 6, 1906, Barbara Burnett was born; June 4, 1908, Philip Mason Burnett was born; August 21, 1910, Anne Priscilla Burnett was born.

BUSH, SAMUEL DACRE. Still in the cotton business. Was married February 16, 1905, to Miss Mary Duryee Nichols, of Englewood, N. J.

BYERLY, WILLIAM ELWOOD. No change from last report.

CANAVAN, MICHAEL JOSEPH. Is agent for the sale of various building materials, and has published several articles concerning old New England and particularly Boston.

CHADWICK, FRANCIS BROOKS. No change from last report.

CHAPIN, HERBERT ALLEN. Same as last report.

CHAPIN, HORACE DWIGHT. No change from last report. Is still engaged in the practice of law and resides at Beverly, Mass.

CHASE, HERBERT AUGUSTUS. Is still practising medicine at 950 Massachusetts Avenue, Cambridge. Is a member of the Colonial Club, Cambridge, and its secretary for four years.

†CHENERY, CORNELIUS. No change from last report.

CLIFFORD, WALTER. Resides in New Bedford, Mass.

CONNOR, VIRGIL ROSCOE. Resides in Fairfield, Me.

*CUTLER, ARTHUR TRUFANT. Died at Chicago, Ill., January 2, 1903, of bronchial pneumonia.

DABNEY, ALFRED STACKPOLE. No change since last report.

*DANA, ISRAEL PUTNAM. Dana continued the practice of law at Kansas City, Mo., until the fall of 1908, when his failing health compelled him to go to another climate and the last two years of his life were spent on a ranch in Texas. He was afflicted with a malignant throat trouble from which he suffered constantly and the end came at Loomis, N. Y., on November 5, 1910. He was highly regarded in Kansas City both as a lawyer and a man, and served as counsel for many of the large corporations of that locality.

DANIELS, FRANCIS BARRETT. Is general solicitor for the Pullman Company, Chicago, Ill.

*DEARBORN, JOSEPH HENRY. Died at Pembroke, N. H., March 24, 1911.

DEMING, HORACE EDWARD. "Am still engaged in the active practice of the law. My energies outside of my profession have been largely devoted to rendering such assistance as I could in various kinds of civic betterment work, such as the improvement of our electoral methods, the establishment and extension of the merit system in the public administrative service, the spread and application of sound principles in the government of cities. Have served as officer and on the working committee of many temporary and permanent movements organized to further these purposes; for example, National Civil Service Reform League, New York Civil Service Reform Association, National Short Ballot Organization, New York Short Ballot Organization, City Club of New York, National Municipal League, etc. In 1909 published (G. P. Putnam's Sons) 'Government of American Cities.'"

†DONALDSON, JOHN JOHNSTON. No reply.

ELA, RICHARD. Still managing the Standard Turning Works, with some law business particularly in probate matters. Is a member of the Colonial Club, Cambridge, University Club, Boston, and the New England Historic Genealogical Society.

ELA, WALTER. No change from last report.

EMERTON, EPHRAIM.

ROME, ITALY, April 1, 1911.

"Dear Barnes — I have answered your questions as well as I can at long distance. I am now taking a semi-Sabbatical during the second half of the academic year 1910-11. I took a whole year off in 1906-07, of which the important thing was a winter in Egypt, preceded by a second visit to Athens. I hope you will tell the boys that I have tried to do my duty to Harvard, in the thirty-five years I have served her, in such a way that the Class of '71 will not be ashamed of me."

Is a member of the Colonial Society of Massachusetts, the Massachusetts Historical Society, the Cambridge Historical Society, and the Essex Institute of Salem. Is a corresponding member of the Institut Generale and a Fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. Has published "Calvin and Servetus" (Harvard Theological Review, 1909); "The Religious Environment of Early Christianity" (Harvard Theological Review, 1910); "Unitarian Thought" (The Macmillan Company, 1911).

ERNST, GEORGE ALEXANDER OTIS. Has been largely interested in municipal reform and in 1907-09 served as a member of the Boston Finance Commission, which investigated the financial condition of that city and drew the reform amendments to the Boston Charter under which the city is now acting.

EUSTIS, WILLIAM ELLERY CHANNING. Engaged in mining and smelting.

FAXON, WALTER. No change to report.

FOX, JABEZ. No change from last report.

†FRENCH, WILLIAM CLIFFORD. No report.

*FULLER, ALFRED NEWELL. Fuller devoted himself to teaching and private tutoring. In December, 1902, he was married to Miss Marie Pothaive of Paris, France, and soon afterwards he found himself out of employment by reason of the closing of the school where he had been teaching. The last years of his life were a hard struggle, and his health gradually gave way under the strain. He was stricken with paralysis, and after an illness of two weeks he died on March 24, 1909. It is gratifying to note that prompt response by certain members of the Class to the Secretary's appeals for assistance for Fuller served to cheer and comfort him in the last years of his life.

GARLAND, GEORGE MINOT. No change to report.

GERRISH, JOHN BROWN. No change since last report.

GLEASON, THEODORE CLARENCE. In February, 1908, resigned his pastorate at Lonsdale, R. I., and accepted a call to the First Baptist Church at East Greenwich, R. I.

*GODEY, HARRY. Died at Philadelphia on January 30, 1909, of pneumonia.

HAGAR, EUGENE BIGELOW. "As I have no occupation that I pursue for gain, I suppose that I am to be classified with those who have no occupation, though I am the busiest man that I know. Am a member of the Union Club, the University Club, the Bostonian Society, the New England Historic Genealogical Society, all of Boston, and of many other and less important organizations. I am sorry I have not done something to shed lustre on the Class, but it is true, though melancholy to relate, that there are only two facts that distinguish me at the age of sixty from my fellowmen. One is that I know the Westminster Chime, and I cannot find any one else who does, and the other is that I lived over fifty-one years in the same house in Boston."

HILLS, WILLIAM BARKER. Resigned his professorship in the Harvard Medical School September 1, 1904, to take charge of the chemical laboratory of the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company of Boston, and is still with that company. Holds the appointment of Associate Professor of Chemistry Emeritus at the Harvard Medical School.

HINCKLEY, SAMUEL PARKER. No change from last report.

HODGES, EDWARD FRANCIS.

BERLIN, GERMANY, April 16, 1911.

“My dear Barnes — It is with great regret that I am constrained to announce that my fixed determination to let no other gathering of the class occur without attending it, must yield to circumstances. I shall be in Europe until the fall and cannot join the diminishing remnant of our good class at the festivities which will mark our fortieth anniversary. Just twice as many years have passed since our graduation as I had numbered (and a few months beside) before that event! But my love goes out to all that still gather at the shrine and a wistful regret that I may not be one of them. The previous report is correct but please say ‘was’ instead of ‘is’ for I am become a ‘has been’ and glory in it.”

*HUNKING, CHARLES DUSTIN. Died at Haverhill, Mass., July 23, 1909.

JACKSON, FRANK. Is attending different courses at Harvard College. Is a member of the Tavern Club.

JAMES, HENRY CLAY. No change from last report.

JAY, AUGUSTUS. No reply.

JENKS, CHARLES WILLIAM. “My dear Barnes — I fear I have little of interest for the Class Report. I have lived quietly the last twenty-five years in this little town of Bedford, Mass., on an ancestral farm interesting myself in a moderate way in agricultural and natural history pursuits. Neither the President nor Governor have needed my assistance except by an occasional vote, but my fellow-townsmen have thought me competent to serve them as trustee of the Public Library, cemetery trustee, tree warden and town moderator. I have been connected with the University Club of Boston, Reform Club, Unitarian Club, Massachusetts Horticultural Society, Boston Society of Natural History, Appalachian Club, New England Botanical Club, American Fern Society, Bunker Hill Monument Association, Concord Antiquarian Club, Rural Club, and the Grange."

JOHNSON, TREBY. Is president of the Granite National Bank, Augusta, Me., and was mayor of the city for 1909.

JONES, GEORGE IRVING. Publishing law books. Is a member and director in the Harvard Club, Chicago, and a member of the City Club and Edgewater Golf Club.

KIMBALL, CHARLES WARREN. Practising law at Penn Yan, New York. Was married October 31, 1910, to Henrietta Hicks, daughter of Henry and Marietta Hicks.

*KING, JOHN LORD. Died at Syracuse, N. Y., June 18, 1905, of pernicious anæmia.

KING, WILLIAM NEIL. "I belong to the great army of the unemployed, and reside in Columbus, Ohio, the centre of Buckeye statesmanship and office-holding, not to speak of those wanting office. Am a director in the Capitol Trust Company, State Savings Bank and Trust Company, and the Scioto Valley Traction Company, all of Columbus."

KLAPP, WILLIAM HENRY. "My dear Barnes — I am returning to you the class information slip without, however, answering the questions; and simply for the reason that I have nothing new to report. Since your last report I have not changed my occupation or residence, or married, or done anything distinguished or even notorious. I am deeply interested in my work here, and when you have about three hundred boys to look after, they keep you busy. Between this and the more or less social life and a good deal of reading, with usually two or three months during the summer in Europe, I have not much time to get rusty, but alas! like all of us, only to get old. I wish I could get to the dinner at the last of June, but I shall probably be many a mile away at that time, taking my summer trip. If it should be possible, you may be sure I will be on hand, for it would give me the greatest pleasure to see all you good fellows again, after this long lapse of forty years. I don't believe it has been forty years, anyhow! You have made the count wrong, or something is the matter, for it is a popular saying that appendicitis never attacks any one over forty years of age, and this time two years ago they cut me open in the most approved fashion. So there! What greater proof could you have? Good luck and good health to you."

LAMB, HORATIO APPLETON. Is treasurer of the Simmons Female College and a member of its corporation; president of the Boston Co-operative Building Company; president of the Boston Children's Aid Society; treasurer of the Massachusetts Society of the Cincinnati; trustee of the Suffolk Savings Bank; trustee of the D. L. Dix Fund; park commissioner of Milton; member of the Somerset Club, Tavern Club, St. Botolph Club, Country Club, Milton Club, Hoosic Whisick Club, Rural Club. "Every year I become more interested in farming, especially in cattle breeding, apple and pear orchards, and cultivation of grapes."

* LARNED, WALTER CRANSTON. "I have written many lectures and articles, but have published no book since my 'Rembrandt, a Romance of Holland.' Among the lectures are 'With the Roman and the Goth from Southern France to Paris' and 'An Interpretation of Leonardo da Vinci.'"

LAWRENCE, JOHN S. Served a term of two years on the Police and Fire Commission of Grand Rapids by appointment and was its president from May, 1906 to May, 1907. Has been an elected member of the Grand Rapids Library Commission since 1907 and for the last two years its president. Published in 1911 a family history, entitled "Descendants of Moses and Sarah Kilham Porter."

LAWRENCE, WILLIAM. "As to occupation and changes in occupation: have been wandering around Massachusetts as Bishop for eighteen years, changing it by going round the other way and occasionally crossing the Atlantic or the Rocky Mountains." Published in 1902 "Life of Roger Wolcott" and in 1903 "Study of Phillips Brooks," besides various pamphlets and addresses. Since last report has received the following degrees: Princeton, LL.D., 1904; Cambridge, England, LL.D., 1908; Durham, England, D.D., 1908; Yale, D.D., 1909; Lawrence University, Wis., LL.D., 1910; Kings, Nova Scotia, D.D., 1910; Columbia, D.D., 1911. Has served as president of the Harvard Alumni Association, chairman of the House of Bishops, and is trustee of the Peabody Educational Fund, Wellesley College, Groton and St. Mark's Schools.

*LINCOLN, FRANCIS NEWHALL. Lincoln remained with the firm of Little, Brown & Co., Boston, until his death, which occurred July 30, 1903, from apoplexy.

LODGE, HENRY CABOT. Was re-elected to the United States Senate in 1905 and 1911. Has published, "A Fighting Frigate and other essays," 1902, "A Frontier Town and other essays," 1906; is a member of the Massachusetts Historical Society, the Virginia Historical Society, the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, the American Institute of Arts and Letters, the American Academy of Arts and Letters, the New England Historic and Genealogical Society, and of the American Antiquarian Society, and has received the degree of doctor of laws from Williams College, Clark University, Yale University, and Harvard University; was permanent chairman of the Republican National Convention which met in Philadelphia, June 19, 1900; chairman of the committee on resolutions of the Republican National Convention of 1904, at Chicago; permanent chairman of the Republican National Convention of 1908, at Chicago; was a member of the Commission on Alaskan Boundary appointed by President Roosevelt, Regent of the Smithsonian Institution during service in the House of Representatives, and appointed Regent again in 1905.

LOVERING, PHILLIPS ADAMS. "Since the last report I have served in California, Manila, Washington, D. C., and Norfolk, Va., and at present I am Medical Director in command of the Naval Medical Supply Depot at Brooklyn, N. Y. I wish you would kindly remember me to the Class in case I cannot be at the approaching reunion. Three children have been born to me since the last report. Stella Lovering, Sept. 6, 1901; James Albert Lovering, October 26, 1905; Joseph Lovering, October 18, 1908."

LYMAN, FRANCIS OGDEN. Is a member of the Harvard Club of Chicago; Western Alumni Association of Exeter Academy; Chicago Church Club; Harvard Varsity Club; Harvard Law School Association, and Navy League of the United States.

MCCOBB, JAMES SELDEN. "Practically out of business since 1906, but still have an interest in my old firm of Charles Head and Company."

McMANUS, JAMES. "Have been town clerk of Natick, Mass., nearly 25 years continuously. Found the work to be congenial and have been content. Presume, however, it will soon be in order for me to retire and give place to younger men. Still remember my classmates with whom I spent so many happy days. Was married July 18, 1906, at Saxonville to Miss Emma A. Franks, daughter of John and Joanna (Smith) Franks."

MAYHEW, WILMOT MELVIN. No reply.

MERRIAM, FRANK. "Has been treasurer of the Nahant Church for the last sixteen years and, as he approaches, one detects a pungent, but altogether agreeable odor of sanctity. Per contra, he was president of the Nahant Club for seven years."

MONTAGUE, GEORGE PRESCOTT. No reply.

*MUNROE, JOHN. Died at St. Germain, France, December 1, 1904.

NESMITH, THOMAS. No change from last report.

†NICHOLS, FRANCIS WILLIAMS. Is a dealer in antiquities in Salem, Mass. Was married June 10, 1874, at Georgetown, D. C., to Minnie Magruder Zeller, daughter of Henry and Margaret (Cochrane) Zeller. March 23, 1875, Millicent Magruder Nichols was born; September 12, 1877, Francis W. Nichols, Jr., was born; August 30, 1880, John Nichols was born; March 12, 1884, Rodman A. Nichols was born; August 30, 1890, Mary Nichols was born.

NICHOLS, HARRY PEIRCE. Is still the rector of the Holy Trinity Church, New York City. In 1905 delivered and published the Bohlen lectures on "The Temporary and the Permanent in New Testament Revelation." Was one of the founders of the American Alpine Club in 1900, and is a member of the Century Association and various church associations and organizations. In 1904 received the degree of D.D. from New York University.

OTIS, EDWARD OSGOOD. Is still a valiant warrior in the crusade against the Great White Plague, and is actively connected with the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, the American Climatological Association, and the Boston Association for the Relief and Control of Tuberculosis; corresponding member of the International Anti-Tuberculosis Association; consulting physician to the State Sanatorium, Rutland, Mass.; senior physician of the Tuberculosis Department of the Boston Dispensary, and professor of Pulmonary Diseases and Climatology at Tufts College Medical School. Is a member of the University Club, Boston, the Sons of the American Revolution, and a deacon of the Mt. Vernon Congregational Church, Boston. Two children have been born to him since the last report. William Faxon Otis, October 12, 1903, and Brooks Otis, June 10, 1908.

PALMER, CHARLES LANE. No report.

PEARCE, EDWARD DOUGLAS. Is president of the Providence Institution for Savings at Providence, R. I.

†PEIRCE, HERBERT HENRY DAVIS. For the last five years has been Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to Norway. He resigned the position in April, 1911, thus ending seventeen years of diplomatic service. Is a member of the Metropolitan Club and the Chevy Chase Club, Washington, D. C., the Norskeselskal Club, Christiania, Norway, the order of the Double Dragon of China, and Commander Legion of Honor of France.

*PENNELL, ROBERT FRANKLIN. Died at San Francisco, Cal., October 22, 1905

PILLSBURY, ALBERT ENOCH. Is a member of various societies, some of the more prominent being: Massachusetts S. P. C. A. (vice-president and director); American Humane Education society (vice-president and director); National Negro Conference (vice-president); American Academy of Political and Social Science, and the International Law Association. Is a member of the Authors Club, London; University (vice-president), Art, and Algonquin Clubs, Boston, and the Harvard Union. Is specially interested in justice to the negro, protection to dumb animals, universal arbitration, and forestry in N. H. Was lecturer on Constitutional Law at the Boston University from 1896 to 1905. Has delivered and published the following addresses: "Newburyport and City Government," 1901; "Daniel Webster, the Orator," 1903; "The Disfranchisement of the Negro," 1906; "The Constitutional Amendments," 1909; "The Town and the Town Library," 1909; "Horace Greeley," 1911. Was married at Edinburgh, Scotland, July 1, 1905, to Miss Elizabeth Mooney, daughter of Henry C. and Lucy G. (Holbrook) Mooney. July 21, 1907, Elizabeth Dinsmoor Pillsbury was born; March 17, 1910, Parker Webster Pillsbury was born.

*READ, NATHANIEL GOODWIN. "Goody" pursued the even tenor of his way in apparently good health until the fall of 1910, when he underwent an operation for gall stones from which he failed to rally and he passed away November 18, 1910.

REED, JAMES RUSSELL. "Dear Barnes — I enclose my answers to your questions. You will see that I have done nothing of any interest to anyone but myself. I have held up my end as far as trout, partridge, woodcock, bear, moose, and wild-cats are concerned, and have done a little law business some of it serious and some of it amusing, but nothing which the other boys would care to hear about."

*REYNOLDS, JOHN. Resided at Montclair, N. J., until his death on August 27, 1908. He had suffered intensely at times for some years from some intestinal trouble and finally consented to submit to an operation in the hope of getting relief, but the operation disclosed a malignant carcinoma and he died within forty-eight hours after entering the hospital.

RHODES, WALLACE EUGENE. Is living at Brighton, England. Is a member of the New Club, Brighton, the Brighton and Hore Golf Club, the West Hore Golf Club, and the Junior Conservative, London.

*RICE, SYLVESTER WARREN. Rice remained in Oregon until his death, which occurred at Dillard on October 14, 1902, from heart failure due to an acute attack of indigestion.

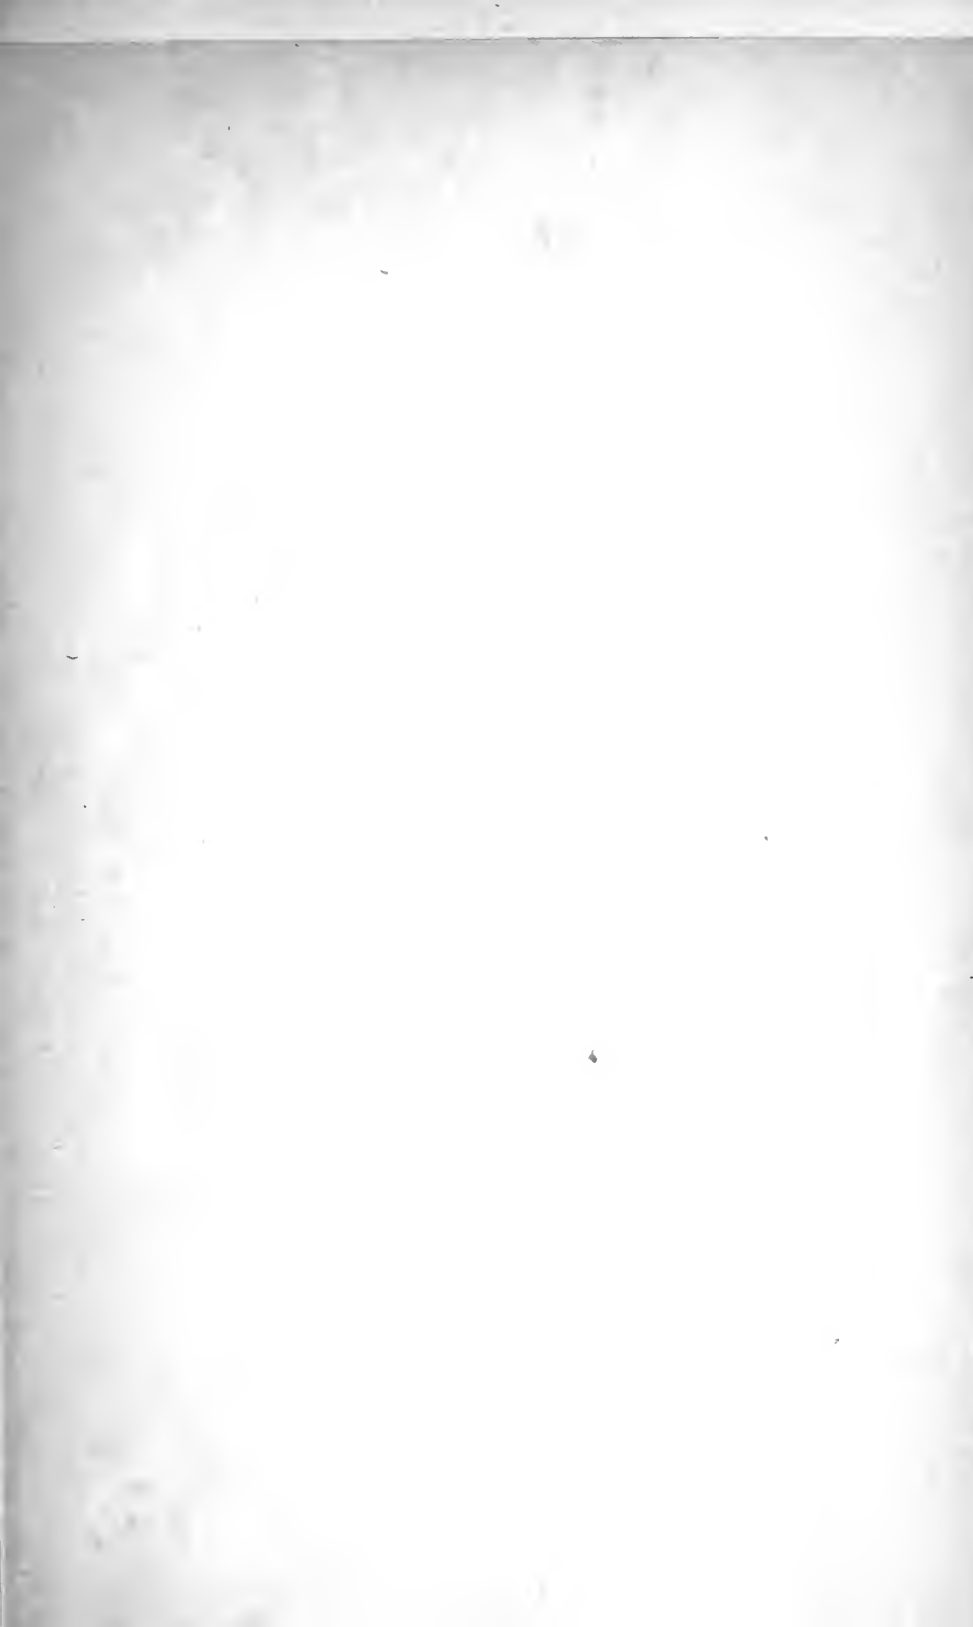

†RIVES, WILLIAM CABELL. No reply.

*ROTCH, MORGAN. Resided at New Bedford, Mass., until his death which occurred on January 30, 1910, from angina pectoris.

SAMPSON, JUNIUS. Is now at Beaumont, Texas.

*SANGER, WILLIAM THOMPSON. Devoted the last years of his life to prospecting and developing mining properties. He died at San Jacinto, Cal., March 21, 1904, of heart failure.

SCOTT, JAMES PATTERSON. Has been ill for several years.

LINES

Read at the dinner of the Class of 1871 on June 27, 1911, their fortieth anniversary.

FORTY-YEAR graduates, how are you feeling
After the interval? Sorry or glad?
Have not these years the result of revealing
That life after sixty is not at all bad?

Joys and the sorrows, that love has transmuted,
Sped and retarded the flight of those years;
Hopes have been blighted or blossomed and fruited;
Life has brought happiness, toiling, and tears.

Not that the toil is a cause for regretting;
Work is existence's truest excuse.
Honors that came were not easy of getting,
Granted for deeds that were greatly of use.

New generations are taking our places;

Still we can help them in work to be done;

And, as we look in the glowing young faces,

We shall see living old 'Seventy-One

Multiplied : many, no longer dependants,

Married and parents, some too young for toys,

Three hundred thirty-nine living descendants,

One-eighty-five of them young men and boys.

Of these are eighty that Harvard can rally;

Others are coming to add to the score.

When we arrive at our fiftieth tally

'Seventy-One will be living still more.

H. W. S.

SEYBOLD, CHARLES FREDERICK. No reply.

SHEPARD, HARVEY NEWTON. Is on an extended tour round the world, and will not be in Boston before the middle of July.

SMITH, THEOPHILUS GILMAN. No change since last report.

SPROAT, JAMES CROSSMAN. No change since last report.

STARBUCK, HENRY PEASE. "Can't think of anything of interest except that I am at present the president of the Harvard Club of Southern California and have been referee in Bankruptcy for the County of Santa Barbara, California, since the passage of the present Bankruptcy Act. Perhaps it might be worth while to add that I have been for some five years and still am a trustee of the Santa Barbara Free Public Library. This is an elective office."

STEDMAN, GEORGE. Still practising medicine. Is superintendent of the Massachusetts Charitable Eye and Ear Infirmary, and assistant medical examiner for Suffolk County. Is a member of the Algonquin Club, Cribb Club, Brookline Country Club, Boston Athletic Association, American Medical Association and Boston Society for Medical Observation. Was married October 23, 1906 to Annie Laura Huntley, daughter of Harris and Eunice Huntley.

STEDMAN, HENRY RUST. "Same old job at the old stand." Has been president of the American Neurological Association and is now president of the New England Society of Psychiatry. Has published a few medical monographs.

*STEIN, CHARLES CARROLL. Continued the practice of law at Pueblo, Col., until his death which occurred on February 5, 1905, from heart failure.

STORY, WILLIAM EDWARD. No change.

STOWELL, GEORGE LEVERETT. No change.

†SULLAVOU, EMANUEL. No change from last report.

SUTRO, THEODORE "Still engaged in the practice of law, senior member of Sutro and Wright. Was a commissioner of Taxes in New York from 1895-98. A member of the Admiral Dewey Reception Committee appointed by Mayor Van Wyck in 1899; also member of the Hudson-Fulton Commission to celebrate the three hundredth anniversary of the discovery of the Hudson River by Henry Hudson and the hundredth anniversary of the invention of the first steamship by Robert Fulton, under appointment by Mayor McClellan in 1909. Have been engaged in work of so varied a character since 1901 that it is almost impossible to enumerate. Have been especially active in German American societies. Have published the following books: "Thirteen Chapters of American History, represented by the Edward Moran Series of Thirteen Historical Marine Paintings," and poems and letters under the title, "Milestones on Life's Pathway," and have written many articles and pamphlets on various subjects, including taxation, corporation law, medical jurisprudence, mining, and also general literature and poetry. Have made many addresses on public occasions in the English and also in the German language in various parts of the country. Was a prominent candidate for the United States Senatorship in the balloting by the legislature in New York for that office in 1911. Have been collecting many paintings among them the famous Edward Moran Series of Thirteen Historical Marine paintings which were loaned to the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York for two years and subsequently to the Smithsonian Institution (National Museum) in Washington where they still are. Was a delegate at large from New York to the Universal Congress of Lawyers and Jurists at St. Louis, in 1904; delegate to the National Conference on Taxation at Columbus, Ohio, in 1907, at Toronto, Canada, in 1908; was one of the delegates invited to deliver an address on Taxation at the State Conference of Tax Officers and others, at Utica, N. Y., on January 12, 1911 and was also a delegate to the arbitration conference at Lake Mohonk. Am and have been, for some years past, president of the German-American Alliance of the State of New York and of the United German Societies of the City of New York." Among the societies to which he at one time or other belonged may be mentioned, the Liederkrantz, the Reform, the German, the Patria and Drawing Room Clubs; the Folklore Society, the United Real Estate Owners' Association (vice-president), the National Civic Club of Brooklyn, the Oratorio Society of New York; was president of the Medical and Legal Society, was vice-president of the Hundred Year Club at the time that Dr. H. W. Wiley of Washington was president, was president of the Society for Public Duty, was secretary of the Washington Heights Century Club, also of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, and the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and was a member of many others, scientific, literary, civic and social, in all of which he has taken a prominent part and in many of which he has held official positions.

SWIFT, HENRY WALTON. In December, 1900, was appointed Reporter of Decisions of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts and assumed the duties of the office January 1, 1901. Since that time he has completed thirty-one volumes of reports.

*THAYER, NATHANIEL. Thayer died at Boston on March 21, 1911, after a lingering illness of two years.

*TITCOMB, LENDALL. Served as mayor of Augusta, Me., for 1901 and 1902, and then withdrew from public office and practised law until his death, which occurred at Augusta on April 23, 1908.

TOWNSEND, BENJAMIN BEECHER. No report.

TOWNSEND, HENRY CLARK. No change from last report.

TROUTT, JAMES MORRIS. Is still a judge of the Superior Court of California, having been re-elected in 1910 for another six year term. Is a member of the Harvard Club of San Francisco. He writes: "Sincerest thanks for your kind and very welcome letter, received this month, in which you urge me to attend the fortieth anniversary of our graduation at Fair Harvard. June 27 is the day set for the round-up, but, unfortunately for me, my affairs compel me to resist the desire to be with you and our classmates on that occasion. I fully and seriously appreciate your suggestion that this will be an opportunity to meet a goodly number of our class and ought not to be missed, but I'll have to content myself with the hope that none of our number will be missing at our next succeeding reunion. I promise myself the pleasure of calling on you within the next two or three years. In the meantime, allow me to extend an invitation to yourself and to our classmates to be present at the Panama-Pacific Exposition to be held in San Francisco in 1915. Do arrange to visit the Pacific Coast then, sure (and also, sooner, if you can), and I'll show you around.

"With esteem and best wishes to yourself and our classmates. Ever cordially yours."

TUDOR, WILLIAM. No change from last report, but as a grandpa he leads the Class.

*TWOMBLY, HAMILTON MCKOWN. Twombly died at his country home, Morristown, N. J., on January 11, 1910, after a serious illness of several weeks from tuberculosis of the larynx and a complication of diseases.

WALKER, TIMOTHY BREWSTER. No change from last report.

WARE, WILLIAM ROTCH. "Devoted sedulously to the raising of hen-fruit, and cultivating the graces of a 'foxy grandpa.'"

WARREN, JOSEPH WEATHERHEAD. "No change. Am still teaching during the winter. In the summer I peddle pills at the Shoals and give such medical advice there as a disgustingly healthy public requires. Am a member of the Art Club of Philadelphia, of The Players and the Harvard Club of New York, and of the St. Botolph of Boston; am a Fellow of the College of Physicians of Philadelphia, a member of the American Physiological Society and a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. I also do some review work for the Nation, sending in a few feet of book notices each year."

WELLS, JAMES BRADISH. No reply.

WENTWORTH, WILLIAM PECK. No report.

*WHEELER, HENRY NATHAN. Wheeler died at Cambridge, Mass., on July 8, 1905, after an illness of two weeks, from Bright's disease.

WHITNEY, EDWARD FARLEY. "Withdrew from the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., N. Y., on Dec. 31, 1910, as I desired to retire from active business."

WHITNEY, WILLIAM FISKE. Has published Bulletin No. 1 of the Warren Anatomical Museum and numerous short articles in the medical journals. Is president of the Boston Obstetrical Society.

WILDS, JUDSON BOARDMAN. Still practising law in New York City.

*WILKINSON, ALMADUS. Resided in Troy, N. Y., until his death, July 24, 1903.

WILLIAMS, BYRON CRANE. No change from last report.

WILLIAMS, CHARLES HERBERT. No change.

*WILLIAMSON, JOHN SCHENCK. Williamson continued the practice of law at Brooklyn, N. Y., and had secured a large clientele, principally in real estate and conveyancing. It was my good fortune to spend March 15 and 16 last in Williamson's company, and he was apparently in as good health as ever, and as jolly and good natured as in his college days when we roomed together in College House. We talked over college days and classmates and his parting word on March 16 was a promise to come to our fortieth anniversary. He was taken with pneumonia March 22, and died March 24. [A. M. B.]

WING, GEORGE CLARY. "No changes from last report that would be of special interest to the Class."

These additions to the lists published in the report make the total living children 250, and the total living grandchildren 116. In one or more cases where the children of the Class have intermarried, the grandchildren are listed through the male descendant.

CORRECTION

In the Tudor grandchildren, for "Dedons" read "Dedons de Pierrefeu."
